

Interstate Commerce Commission's Investigation.

Mr. W. Gibbs, general superintendent of the power, Mr. Hoyer's superior officer, testified that he knew nothing of his chief clerk's acceptance of money from the coal companies.

Mr. Gibbs said he understood there had been some sort of an agreement, but he was not familiar with its terms. The coal company, he said, claimed that the railroad should make all repairs, but the latter made an issue of it, and rendered bills to the Frick Company for repairs to its cars. The Frick Company paid for repairs to wheels and axles, but refused to pay the full amount of the charges.

For Services Rendered.

D. M. Maroney, of Pittsburgh, president of the West Virginia connecting railroad, formerly in the car record and distribution department of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, testified that while he was in the employ of the Baltimore and Ohio, he was given $5,000 worth of stock in the Monongahela River Coal Company in payment for services rendered. He sold this stock. While he was vice-president of the Pittsburgh, Shawmut and Northern Railroad, which is now being surveyed, he was presented with $10,000 worth of stock in the Weaver Coal Company by Henry Weaver, who has since died.

N. S. Rebennecke, controller of the Pennsylvania Railroad, testified that he is interested in the Crawley Land Company of Virginia.

With him are associated J. T. Richards, chief engineer of maintenance of way of the Pennsylvania Railroad; Stephen Green, a Philadelphia business man, and others from New England. The company is a Boston corporation, which has acquired Southern coal lands.

M. K. Reeves, chief clerk to Vice-President Pugh, testified that Colonel George F. Huff had given him coal company stock valued at $4,000. He said he has known Colonel Huff from boyhood. The stock was in the Keystone Coal and Coke Company, the Howard, the Green, and the Cardiff Coal Companies. David E. Williams and Company, he said, had also presented him with five hundred shares in the Cynbra Coal Company.

SUSPECTS ARRESTED.

Two Negroes Arrested Before the Murder Was Known.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PAMPLIN CITY, VA., June 6.—Two colored men, suspects, giving their names as Asa Brown and Moses Tinsley, who were found here early this morning, when asked how they came here, said they bought tickets at Farmville for this place. Knowing that tickets cannot be sold there on the night train for Pamplin, and finding that they had beaten their way here on a freight train about daybreak—this, with other talk of theirs, caused them to be suspected as criminals and fugitives from justice.

Hence, they were arrested here by Sergeants Johnson and Payne, and on the next train, at 10:45 A. M., were taken to Prospect, five miles from Tugle's Station, and turned over to Detective, or Constable, Baldwin. On the next train from Petersburg, at nearly one P. M., blood-hounds were brought up and set out to try to find the criminals, but up to this hour, four o'clock P. M., we have not heard with success.

TWO STATES SAY BRYAN'S THE MAN.

Democratic Conventions of South Dakota and Arkansas Declare for Him.

NAME IS LOUDLY CHEERED

It Arouses Wild Enthusiasm in Both Bodies—Davis for Senator.

(By Associated Press.)

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., June 6.—The Democratic State convention, in session here, to-day unanimously adopted resolutions amid intense enthusiasm, endorsing William Jennings Bryan to be the Democratic standard-bearer in the Presidential campaign of 1908, and selected Jefferson Davis, the nominee of the party, for United States Senator, and State officers to be voted on at the ensuing general election. The day's proceedings were harmonious throughout, in marked contrast to the proceedings of Tuesday.

The ticket is as follows: Governor—J. S. Little. Auditor—A. E. Moore. Secretary of State—A. C. Ludwig. Treasurer—J. L. Yates. Attorney-General—W. F. Kirby. Superintendent of Public Instruction—J. J. Doolin. Land Commissioner—L. L. Knuffman. Agricultural Commissioner—Guy B. Tucker. Associate Justice—J. C. Reddick. Railroad Commissioner—H. L. Hampton. J. W. Crockett.

BRYAN'S NAME IS LOUDLY CHEERED.

(By Associated Press.)

YANKTON, S. D., June 6.—The South Dakota Democratic convention to-day nominated a ticket and strongly endorsed Bryan for President in 1908. Every mention of his name on the floor of the convention brought forth a storm of applause.

The following ticket was named: For Congress, W. J. Elders, Lawrence S. A. Hamsey, of Sanborn. For Governor, J. A. Stramsky, of Brule; Lieutenant-Governor, James Coffey, of Walworth. Secretary of State, Frank Latta, of Hyde. State Auditor, John Hayes, of Stanley. Treasurer, C. W. Martin, of Grant. Attorney-General, C. B. J. Harris, of Yankton.

Commissioner of Schools and Public Lands, C. J. Laughlin, of Lake. Superintendent of Public Instruction, Thomas Lyne, of Clay. Railroad Commissioner, D. H. Lion, of Minnehaha.

SLATE WENT THROUGH.

Effort to Break Programme in Pennsylvania Defeated.

(By Associated Press.)

HARRISBURG, PA., June 6.—The Republican State convention to-day nominated the following ticket: Governor, Edwin S. Stuart, Philadelphia. Lieutenant-Governor, Robert S. Murphy, Cambridge. Auditor-General, Robert K. Young, Towson. Secretary of International Affairs, Henry Howe, Lebanon.

The platform commends the national and State administrations, advocates legislation giving to trolley companies the right to carry freight, advocates a two-cent passenger rate of steam railroads, and deals at great length on other State issues.

The ticket was the one agreed upon by United States Senator Penrose and other party leaders in advance of the convention. An attempt of certain country delegates to form a combination to break the slate failed.

The ticket represents all factions of the party and will, the party leaders believe, harmonize all past differences. President Roosevelt is said to have advised the selection of such a ticket in the belief that it will help the congressional candidates.

DANGER FOR THE QUARANTINE BILL.

Deadlock Among Conferees on Seventh Section May Kill the Measure.

NAME IS LOUDLY CHEERED

House and Senate Conferees Are Decidedly Against the Amendment.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 6.—There is decided danger that the quarantine bill, intended to give Federal aid in yellow fever quarantines, and which has passed the Senate and House, will fail, because of a deadlock among the conferees on the seventh section of the bill.

This section provides that interstate traffic may be carried on without interruption through a State under yellow fever quarantine, under certain regulations; that is, that through trains may make their regular runs without taking on or letting off passengers or freight within the quarantined State.

This section was placed in the bill by the House, but it is understood that certain of the House conferees are also certain of the Senate conferees are decidedly against the amendment. It is regarded by those who advocated it as the only means to suppress the "shot-gun" quarantine.

The quarantine bill went to conference some weeks ago, and the tie-up on this amendment resulted almost immediately.

So decided are the opinions of the conferees on the matter that friends of the measure declare that it will undoubtedly fail for this reason.

A movement has been inaugurated lately, however, to get the section mentioned withdrawn, rather than defeat the bill, and this plan, it is said, is proposed by those who were responsible for placing the section in the measure.

(By Associated Press.)

Mr. Wilson, who is an employee of the Nelson Morris Company, made a general denial of the existence of conditions at the packing houses as set forth in the report. He began by inviting the committee to come to Chicago and spend a week in personal investigation of conditions. That, he said, "would be the only way for members to gain a proper idea of what the conditions really were." Some of the suggestions made in the report, he said, had already been complied with by the packers, such as additional sanitary facilities.

He denied absolutely that there were any diseased cattle or hogs butchered for food. In every carcass of cattle or hogs, he said, some were likely to be dead and some diseased. The dead or diseased hogs and cattle were sent to the Standard Rendering Company, which was a very different institution from the Standard Slaughterhouse Company, although the two were likely to be confused in the mind. The Rendering Company turned the dead and diseased meat into grease, which was a co-product in the manufacture of soap.

Want Supervision.

Supervision of every branch of the packing business was not objected to by the packers, said Mr. Wilson. The government may put on as many inspectors as it desires, he added, so long as the

GERMAN KAISER GUEST OF FRANCIS JOSEF OF AUSTRIA.

KAISER WILHELM OF GERMANY.
(By Associated Press.)
VIENNA, June 6.—Emperor William

arrived here this morning and was greeted at the Northern Railroad station by Emperor Francis Joseph in person. The meeting was marked by extreme heartiness and cordiality, the monarchs kissing each other three times. After introducing their suites, the Emperors proceeded to the Imperial Palace. On their arrival at the station, near the castle, the Imperial party was met by the archdukes, the members of the German embassy, the Austrian ambassador to Germany, and a principal military and civil authorities.

Emperor William inspected the guard of honor, after which the monarchs drove to the castle. They were heartily cheered along the route. A number of duchesses awaited their majesties at the castle, where the German Emperor subsequently received in audience Count Goluchowski, the Minister of Foreign Affairs; Dr. Wekerle, the Hungarian Premier, and Baron von Beck, the Austrian minister.

Emperor William drove through the town and called on the members of the Austrian Imperial family.

Extraordinary precautions had been taken to insure the safety of the German Emperor, the public being rigidly excluded from the northern station this morning, while police lined the road between Bessing and Schoenbrunn. The park, the gardens and all the approaches to the palace were guarded with a strong force of infantry and cavalry, in addition to many police and detectives.

Mr. Wilson said that any person would be pleased with their cleanly appearance before the day's killing and dressing is begun, and that persons not used to packing-houses might be disgusted with the condition of the same rooms several hours later. He contended, however, that there were no unwholesome conditions there. Every day, he said, all rooms, tables, trucks and utensils of all kinds are washed as clean as water and scrubbed with soda.

Chairman Wadsworth's plea, however, what may be termed the startling features of the report, and as he pronounced each indictment, paused for answers. Mr. Wilson did not attempt to deny that odors arose from entrails and offal of the carcasses, but he said they were removed as promptly as possible.

The charge that there were toilet rooms off the work rooms was admitted and the practice defended as not being more unsanitary than a toilet in a hotel in a first-class hotel, as the toilets were kept in good condition. Suitable places were furnished workmen to wash, he said, and he asserted that the men all carried bunches of cheese cloth which was used as towels. The men preferred this, said Mr. Wilson.

Repeating his invitation to members of the committee to visit the packing houses, Mr. Wilson said that the houses are always open, and that millions of people passed through every day. "If you would visit the packing houses, would there be any changes made before we arrived?" asked Mr. Wadsworth.

Adopt Good Suggestions.

"We always take advantage of good suggestions, and Messrs. Neill and Reynolds made a few," replied Mr. Wilson. He thought the changes, however, would not prevent the committee from getting to the facts.

Mr. Wilson questioned a charge made in the Neill-Reynolds report that a carcass of a hog had slipped from a carrier into a closet, and had been picked up and placed with clean carcasses.

He called upon Dr. Neill to state that it did not happen in one of the big packing-houses.

"It did happen in one of the big concerns," Mr. Neill replied, emphatically. Although requested by members of the committee to state which one Mr. Neill referred to, he refused to do so.

"But some of the very things that Mr. Wilson has just now denied," he said, "happened at Nelson-Morris & Company's place."

Speaking of the charge that men climbed on the meat in their work, Mr. Wilson explained in detail the method of being "chucked." Chucks, he said, was the upper part of the front leg. A bone had to be removed and this work is done by place work. A man might reach up on the meat to get a small chuck, but this was against the regulations and men would be discharged if caught doing it.

Could Not Keep Clean.

Reading about the man with a dirty apron and dirty clothes who had no means of cleaning his hands except to wipe them on his dirty apron, and that he would be impossible for an apron to look clean after being worn for twenty minutes. The only eyes used were those to color the casings of the sausage and not for meat.

As to the character of the employees, Mr. Wilson denied that they were the refuse of humanity or that the recent strike had made any change. Ninety-five per

The Little Doctor in your Vest Pocket.

SEE the thin, round-cornered little Enamel Box below! When carried in your vest pocket it means Health-Insurance.

It contains Six Candy Tablets of pleasant taste, almost as pleasant as chocolates.

Each tablet is a working dose of Cascarets, which acts like Exercise on the Bowels and Liver.

It will not purge, sicken, nor upset the stomach.

Because it is not a "Bile-driver," like Salts, Soda, Calomel, Jalap, Senna, nor Aperient Waters.

These waste Digestive Juices of the system needed tomorrow, in merely flushing out the Bowels today.

Neither is it like Castor Oil, Glycerine, or other Oily Laxatives that simply lubricate the Intestines for transit of the food stopped up in them at that particular time.

These emergency drugs relieve the immediate trouble, but do not relieve its Cause.

The same trouble will therefore recur again till that Cause is removed permanently.

The chief cause of Constipation and Indigestion is a weakness of the Muscles that contract the Intestines and Bowels.

Cascarets are practically to the Bowels what a Massage and Cold Bath are to the Athletic Muscles.

cent of those employed since that strike were union men.

Mr. Wilson then took up the Beverage amendment.

"We should very much prefer," he remarked, "if the date on the labels or cans might be omitted." He also suggested that some carcasses might be found unsound and at the same time might be fit for food, or some portion of them. He wanted the language to condemn carcasses only when the carcasses "are found to be unfit for human food."

To illustrate, he said a carcass might be found on the shoulder, and otherwise all right.

"What's the use of burdening the law with a lot of adjectives, such as 'sound,' 'healthful,' etc.?"

Mr. Wilson made the same objection to the use of the words "impure," "unsound," "unhealthy," etc., wherever they qualified the inspection throughout the amendment, and the committee spent some time in discussing the question.

There would be no objection, he said, to a sanitary regulation as strong as the carcasses, but he said they were of their products did not describe the article. As an example, he said his firm sold "Oxford" sausage, which was a pork sausage, and under the name "Oxford." Another article named "Brown" was simply a beef stew.

At this point the committee adjourned until to-morrow.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. James Hayne Brent.

News has reached here of the death near Roseland, in Nelson county, Tuesday, June 6, of Mrs. James Hayne Brent, widow of Mr. Frank P. Brent, of this city.

M. M. Dull.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

STANTON, Va., June 6.—Mr. Michael M. Dull, a prominent Augusta county man, died yesterday morning from a stroke of apoplexy. He was 75 years old. He is the last of a large family of children of John and Elizabeth Dull, his last sister, Mrs. J. W. Miller, having died last week. He leaves a wife, three sons, C. C., R. B., and G. L., of the county, and three daughters, Mrs. Ella Earlhart, Mrs. Meek Moore and Miss Ada Dull, of Augusta county.

Mr. Dull was a prominent law abiding

They stimulate the Bowel Muscles to contract, expand, and squeeze the Digestive Juices out of food eaten.

Cascarets do this naturally, without purging or discomfort.

They don't help the Bowels and Liver in such a way as to make them lean upon similar assistance for the future.

This is why, with Cascarets, the dose may be lessened each succeeding time instead of increased, as it must be with all succeeding doses of other Cathartics and Laxatives.

Cascarets act like Exercise.

If carried in your Vest Pocket, (or carried in My Lady's Purse), and eaten just when you suspect you need one, you will never know a sick day from the ordinary ills of life.

Because, nearly all these ills begin in the Bowels, and partial Constipation paves the way for all other Diseases.
